Why Have an Employer

Retirement Plan

Recruit & Retain

RECRUIT: Many employers want a competitive benefits package as potential new hires are comparing your benefits to those of others.

RETAIN: Don't be shy, let employees know how generous you are and encourage them to use tools to gauge if they're "on track" for retirement. Your generosity is helping to get them there!

Traditional Retirement Plan Benefits to Employers

- Employer contributions are tax-deductible.
 - Assets in the plan grow tax-free.
 - Flexible plan options are available.
 - A retirement plan can attract and retain better employees, reducing new employee training costs.
- Tax credits and other incentives for starting a plan may reduce costs.

Eligible employers

You qualify to claim this credit if:

- You had 100 or fewer employees who received at least $5,000 in compensation from you for the preceding year;
- You had at least one plan participant who was a non-highly compensated employee; and
- You didn't previously sponsor a plan

Amount of the credit

The credit is 50% of your ordinary and necessary eligible startup costs up to a maximum of $500 per year.

Eligible startup costs

You may claim the credit for ordinary and necessary costs to:

- Set up and administer the plan, and
- Educate your employees about the plan.

Traditional Retirement Plan Benefits to Employees

- Employee contributions can reduce current taxable income.
- Contributions and investment gains are not taxed until distributed.
- Contributions are easy to make through payroll deductions.
- Compounding interest over time allows small regular contributions to grow to significant retirement savings.
- Retirement assets can be carried from one employer to another.
- Saver's Credit is available.

You're eligible for the credit if you're:

- Age 18 or older;
- Not a full-time student; and
- Not claimed as a dependent on another person's return.

The amount of the credit is:

- 50%, 20% or 10% of your retirement plan or IRA based on your adjusted gross income

The maximum credit is:

- $1,000, single filer
- $2,000, married filing jointly

- Employee has an opportunity to improve financial security in retirement.

Key Takeaways:

- ✓ 457(b) Plans are excellent ways for executives to achieve higher tax deferred contributions each year.
- ✓ 457(f) Plans are excellent ways to provide incentive pay by the Board to attract and retain top person(s).

Note: 457(f) plans are required to have a substantial risk of forfeiture to maintain tax status. This stipulation generally means an executive's employment is up to the Board and severance of employment can not be voluntary.

Next Steps

Sponsoring a Plan: Choose and Establish

Choose

Determine what the most important aspects of having a plan are:

- Importance of tax deferral for employee
- Employer funding requirement
- Administrative requirements and operational responsibility

Establish

Depending on the type of plan you choose, the administrative steps may include:

- Decide to work with a retirement plan advisor
- Decide what service providers and platform will work best for the type of plan and participants
- Adopt a written plan;
- Arrange fund(s) for the plan's assets;
- Notify eligible employees about the terms of the plan; and
- Establish payroll processes and system setup (integration with payroll and 401k/403b providers are available)

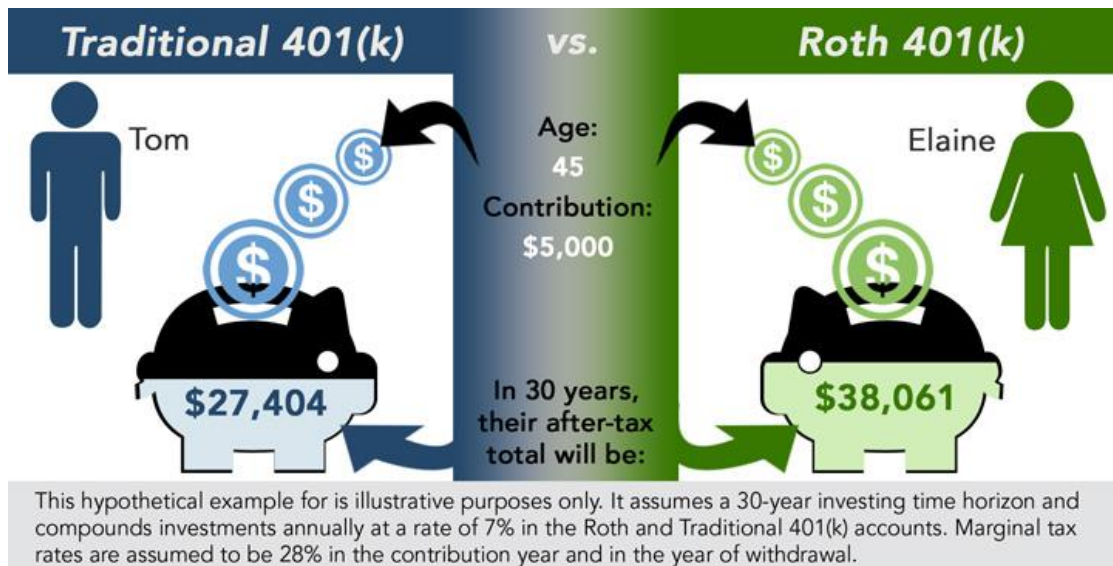

Sponsoring a Plan: Operate the Plan

Operate

You want to operate your retirement plan so that the assets in the plan continue to grow and the tax-benefits of the plan are preserved. These will vary based on the type of plan offered:

- Cover eligible employees;
- Making contributions, especially those for 401k and 403b plans that require consistent deposit;
- Keep the plan up-to-date with retirement plan laws;
- Managing the plan assets and work with advisor to review;
- Provide education and information to employees participating in the plan; and
- Distribute benefits.

401(k) & 403(b) Features to Consider

Auto-solutions can more than double retirement savings!

A worker's account balance at retirement can increase by more than 100% with the help of auto-features.

Account balance at retirement:
$1,246,454

The average workers illustrated above begin the journey toward retirement at age 25, each with an annual salary of $35,000. These examples assume annual raises of 3%, an employer matches 50% of the first 6% contributed, and continued savings through retirement at age 65. (Assumes an annual rate of return of 6%). The examples shown above are for illustrative purposes only. The totals provided are only rough approximations based on general assumptions and are not intended to predict the returns of any investment offered through your retirement plan.
